List of: Landmarks in Jordanelle:

Names:	HBUM	FGS	Pict.	Hist
American Flag Butte			✓
Bennie's Hollow:			✓
Fault line on left side, about half way up the draw.
Boarding house for the miners of the Sphinx mine.
Nice fresh water spring near the top of the draw.
Trail up that hollow and across the hills to Park City, Utah.
Pumpmp House below the Spring to pump the water over the south wall of the hollow to the Sphinx mine.
Benjamin A Norris's wife and infant graves on the south slope of Am erican Flag Butte near the bottom about half way up.			✓
Benjamin A. Norris homestead home south of American Flag Butte back in on a little flat. (Log Cabin)
Thomas Shepherd Lawry Roadside Stand at the foot of the American Flag Butte, facing East, with a watering trough for horses, a hitching post etc.			✓
Jordanelle Resort immediately south of the Provo River and west of the road. They also had a grove of cottonwood trees, and dances were held frequently--entertaining young people and adults from Park City and Heber, Charleston, Midway and Wallsburg. + Dance Hall
Three river bridges:
Mooney Estates Bridge			✓
Old Jordanelle Bridge remained 'till it was replaced in 1958 by
The New Jordanell River Bridge			✓
Two Convienence Cable Crossings:
One about 300 feet west of the present Jordanelle Bridge			✓
One located to the west and a tad north of the Jordan Ranchhaybarn.
Small diversoon dam for irrigation canals for Heber farmers, and Power Plant.			✓
Wooden (Oak) Flume to aarry water from Diversion Dam to Heber Power Plant.
Howland District Mines:
Sphinx Mine, south of the American Flag Butte
Vallejo Mine, up the Vallejo Hollow., near the top.
Vallejo Bridges:
Old
New			✓

2nd Draft
10-20-87

DR. R. R. GREEN
375 E. 2ND ST. N.
HEBER CITY, UTAH
84032